FRIDAY MORNING, MARCH 26, 1858.

PORTRAIT OF A HUSBAND. One of the go-ahead ladies of this progress sive age, thus writes of her husband, to the Beston Olive Branch. It does seem a pity that such a woman should have been caught in the same net with such a man as this lady describes her busband to be-but such accidents do happen occasionally. We should like to have "Solomon's" opinion of his wife:

"MR. EDITOR:-If you could only see my husband, Solomon Stillweather! It is my firm conviction he will be the death of me. I am natura'ly a happy, bright, energetic, warmbearted, chain-lightning, impulsive weman-born after stages were exploded, and in the days of railroads and steam engines .--I've the most capacious heart that ever thumped against a silken bodice; can bate like Lucifer, and love in proportion, and be eternally grateful to any one who is kind to | 1 prize of me. Now, S-o-l-o-m-o-n is a perpetual calm. Nothing ruffles him, nothing disturbs him .-Mount Vesuvius couldn't hurry him; he does everything, mercantile and matrimonial, by rule, square and compass.

Were the house on fire, he would stop to take the lint off his cost, and brush his teeth before starting. If I ask him a question at breakfast, I never get an answer until after tes; he walks around the house with a noiseless, velvety tread, like a superannuated pussy cat. Should the children in their play knock over the tea-table and its contents, he looks quietly up from his book, and says:-'A-i-n-t-y-o-u-r-a-t-h-e-r-r-u-d-e-c-h-i-l-d-r-e-n?

One summer evening in the country, as he to me whether anything short of an earthquake would start him up, so I placed a long etring of crackers behind him, and touched them off, and as I am a living woman, he never so much as winked. You should see him getting ready for church, as he pares and polishes his finger nails, lays every hair on his head over its appropriate bump, sprinkles a drop of cologue on the northwest corner of his pecket-handkerchief, and ties the bow of that cravat for the for-tieth time. I nover saw S-o-l-o-m-o-n excited.

I never heard him laugh; he don't know the luxury of tears. Now, if I only could get up a domestic squabble! (thunder clouds clear the atmosphere, you know,) but it's no use. I've tried to stir him on politics, but he's on the fence, had as leave jump one way as another. I've tried to put on the sulks, and been distant and dignified-I tell you he likes it; besides, you could'nt freeze him colder than he is. I've been loving and petting him; it's a waste of ammunition, he can't be thawed out. It's my solemn belief he was originally intended for an old maid, but by some horrid mistake-he's my husband. I could double Cape Horn while he says "M-y D-e-a-r." O! oh, when the coroner's jury sits on me, won't the verdict be-"died of excess of still weather?"

THE CONVERSION OF GEN. JACKSON. Dr. Samuel A. Cartwright of New Orleans, in a letter written to the Rev. Peter Cartwright, of Illinois, has the following reference to the conversion of President Jackson: "The whole subject could be settled in a trice-the schisms in the churches healed and our political union cemented, if dealt with as you dealt with General Jackson, boldly faced and the truth, however unwelcome, forced upon the public as you forced the awful tenets of the church upon his attention; instead of mineing matters or smothering your doctrine, (when kindly pulled by the coat in the pulpit by a brother clergyman, and admonished in a whisper of the presence of that renowned personage,) you cried out aloud his name— the hero stood up before you and you thunted." Many of the audience, knowing his of the preachers after church was over, callwould a Guinea negro. Jackson waved the apologizer from his presence. The arrow to his standard of what a minister of the gospel ought to be, viz: to love every body and to fear no mortal man. He naturally concluded that love for him and every soul around was the moving spring of what might be regarded as intemperate zeal, and be opened his heart to receive the Word as you preached it .-When he afterwards met with you he shook you cordially by the hand, and remarked that he only wanted a few thousand such independent fearless men to officer an army to take Old England. There is reason to believe that as England and the war disappeared in the distance, heaven opened to his view, and the word you had so fearlessly preached prompted him to win the eternal bliss he now enjoys."

To the Voters of Alexandria: - As some persons seem determined to misrepresent my position, and are still engaged in circulating the report that I have declined b-ing a candidate for the Sheriffalty, I deem it due to myself to state, that such report (whether the offspring of "political trickery" or not,) is an unqualified falsehood-maliciously invented and secretly circulated, for the sole purpose of defeating my election. I now announce myself a candidate, and pledge myself to do my whole duty, if elected. [mk 4-eotE] JAMFS SANGSTER.

At the solicitation of many citizens, offer myself as a candidate for the Sheriffalty of this County, at the ensuing May election, and can only promise (if elected.) to discharge city. I have on hand, and am daily manufacthe duties impartially to the best of my ability. R. CRUPPER.

To the Voters of the County of Alexandria: - Answering the calls of many friends, I announce myself a candidate for the office of Clerk of the County Court, and pledge my undivided attention to the duties. In presenting my name to an intelligent and generous constituen-cy, I wish to inform them that I hold no offices, nor have I other business to divide the pledge I make them. Respectfully GEORGE P. WISE.

NOTICE.-I offer myself as a candidate for the Office of Clerk of the County Court, JAMES DEMPSEY.

I present myself as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the County Court, and will devote myself exclusively to its duties, if elect-

R. JOHNSTON. [feb 4—te] JAMES SANGSTER will be supported for the office of Sheriff for this County, at the coming election, by [dec 5] MANY VOTERS. TO THE VOTERS OF ALEXANDRIA CITY AND COUNTY .- I offer myself as a candidate for the office of Sheriff, at the ensuing May election, and most respectfully solicit your support. H. L. MONROE.

REWARD MERIT .- MAJOR GEORGE DUFFEY, (the present incumbent,) Commissioner of Revenue, is respectfully presented to the voters of Alexandria County, for re-election. The faithful and impartial manner in which he discharged his duty, will recommend him to the entire people.

To the Voters of Alexandria County.—I offer myself as a candidate for the office of Commissioner of the Revenue, at the election in May next. [jan 20-te] P. C. CLAUGHTON.

I hereby offer myself as an Indepen-dent candidate for the Clerkship of the Circuit Court, trusting, by attention and energy, should I be elected, to faithfully perform the duties of the office. [feb 9—tE] EDW. B. POWELL.
